

WEEK B · DAY 1 · MONDAY

The Warm-Up

Common ground, wants and needs, and a relaxed homeowner who is open to the presentation.

11:00 AM – 1:00 PM · Virtual on Zoom

Today

- The purpose of the warm-up
- Control points: how you keep the lead
- Set the frame: the intro
- The customer survey, as a conversation
- Practice: the warm-up on the Sales Training Customer

The purpose

- Create common ground with the homeowner
- Find out their wants and needs in a casual way, through normal conversation
- Get them to relax
- Get their minds open to go into the presentation

Control points

- A small, deliberate question that earns a quick “yes” and hands the lead back to you
- “Right?” · “Wouldn't you agree?” · “Fair enough?” · “Make sense?”
- Each yes is a micro-commitment: stack enough and the close is one more yes
- Whoever asks the questions controls the conversation

Let them say it

- Ask the question so the homeowner says the point, not you
- After the years in business: “It sounds like you’re trying to say experience matters?”
- When they agree, it’s like they said it: it’s their idea now
- If the homeowner says it, it’s gospel. If the rep says it, it’s up for interpretation

“What we are going to do tonight is tell you a little bit about who we are as a company, take photos of everything and show you all the options and types of materials that are available to you, while guaranteeing a 30-day price. However, first I need to ask you some questions to find out what your wants and needs are, so that I can customize the estimate for exactly what you want and not just what my boss or our suppliers want you to buy? Fair Enough? Let’s be clear I am not here to sell you on buying a roof, you already know you need one of those right? (Warm up with customer survey)

Customer Survey

Tell me what was it about the mail piece or Facebook advertisement that you received from us that caught your eye? _____.

I see you've owned the home since _____. Do you know how old the roof was when you bought it?

Why did you choose this home and this neighborhood?

So do you see this home as your forever home or do you see yourself moving anytime soon?

Have you done any upgrades or what upgrades if any do you plan to do?

Talk to me about how you feel about your homeowner's insurance?

Do you remember what you're paying for HO Insurance?

I know this next question is going to sound like it has nothing to do with your roof but I'll explain in a few minutes why it actually does. What is the highest electric bill and what's your lowest electric bill?

How long has your roof been concern?

(if 1 month or more)

How long has your roof been concern?

(if 1 month or more)

Obviously, you're very busy otherwise I'm sure an important concern you'd like to address right away?

What made you decide to have us out today?

When you choose to have work done to your house what are the 2 most import qualities you'll be looking for? Google reviews? Speed? Quality? Warranty? Etc etc

Which of these problems do you have?

Leaks_____ mold_____ insurance cost_____ damage
Maintenance ____,Energy Cost_____,_Quality_____.

If there was a way to save you money by starting the project sooner rather than later, would you want to know about the savings?

When you find what you are looking at a price or term that fits comfortably in your budget, would you be opposed to starting right away?

A conversation, not a form

- React to their answers and follow up on what they say
- Share a little about yourself: that's where common ground comes from
- Listen for their wants and needs: you will use them in the presentation
- By the end they should be relaxed, comfortable and curious

PRACTICE + TONIGHT

Practice it out loud

- Sales Training Customer: Warm-up: intro + customer survey
- Stay on script: the angle and the points, in your own words

Tonight: run the warm-up once on your practice link, then read Slides 1–7 for tomorrow.

WEEK B · DAY 2 · TUESDAY

Slides 1–7

Why U.S. Shingle, and why today: experience, credibility and the savings.

10:00 AM – 1:00 PM · Virtual on Zoom

WHY PEOPLE BUY · F.I.G.S.

The 4 impulse factors

F — Fear of Loss

it won't always be available. Here today, gone tomorrow.

I — Indifference

confidence in your product; comfortably willing to walk away.

G — Greed

people want what others have. Keeping up with the Joneses.

S — Sense of Urgency

"I'm only in your area for a short while."

Word for word from the training manual (Week A, Day 1).

WHICH IMPULSE PUSHES YOUR BUTTON?

Every homeowner has one button

- Hit only one impulse → just a 25% chance it matches theirs.
- You'll gravitate to your own button. It feels natural to you; it may do nothing for them.
- So: hit all four in the presentation, and find theirs as you go.
- You find it the same way you keep control: Question-Based Selling. Ask, then listen.

HOW TO IDENTIFY THEIRS

Listen for where they lean in

- What they bring up on their own. The neighbor's roof, the insurance letter, the last contractor.
- The questions they ask you. "How soon?" "Will this price hold?" "What did the Smiths get?"
- Where their energy changes. They sit up, get more words, look at their spouse.
- What they say twice. The thing they keep coming back to is the button.
- The survey answers. "What made you decide to have us out today?" often tells you on the spot.

F Fear of Loss

WHAT IT SOUNDS LIKE

- "Will this price still be good if we wait?"
- "I don't want to lose my insurance over this roof."
- "What if we miss hurricane season?"

ASK TO BRING IT OUT

- "What happens if the price goes up after this?"
- "What worries you most about waiting?"

LEAN ON IT

- The 30-day price guarantee: here today, gone tomorrow.
- What they lose by waiting: coverage, the savings, the schedule.

Indifference

WHAT IT SOUNDS LIKE

- "The last guy pushed so hard I threw him out."
- "Just show me. I'll decide."
- Arms crossed, short answers, testing you.

ASK TO BRING IT OUT

- "What did the other contractors get wrong?"
- "What would you need to see to feel good about this?"

LEAN ON IT

- Your calm: comfortably willing to walk away. No pressure, no chasing.
- "Let's be clear I am not here to sell you on buying a roof..." (from the intro)
- Confidence in the product. Let the proof do the selling.

G Greed

WHAT IT SOUNDS LIKE

- "The Hendersons across the street just got a metal roof. It looks great."
- "What did the neighbors pay?"
- "What's the best you can do for me?"

ASK TO BRING IT OUT

- "Have you seen any of the roofs we've done around here?"
- "Which one caught your eye?"

LEAN ON IT

- Keeping up with the Joneses: the roofs on their street, what the neighbors chose.
- What they get for the money: savings, value, what others already have.

S Sense of Urgency

WHAT IT SOUNDS LIKE

- "Our insurance renewal is in six weeks and they said the roof has to be done."
- "How soon can you start?"
- "That leak got worse last storm."

ASK TO BRING IT OUT

- "Is there a date you're working against?"
- "If there was a way to save you money by starting the project sooner rather than later, would you want to know about the savings?"

LEAN ON IT

- "I'm only in your area for a short while."
- The schedule, the permit, the crew calendar: when, not just what.

YOUR TURN · CALL IT OUT

Which impulse is it?

1 Across the street the Garcias just got a metal roof. The wife says, "Is that the one you'd put on ours? Theirs looks brand new."

2 "Our insurance company sent a letter. The roof has to be done before the renewal on November 15th."

3 He sits with his arms crossed. "Three roofers already came out. All they did was push. Just show me what you've got."

4 "If we wait until after the holidays, will you still honor this price?"

5 "My sister-in-law got solar and a new roof, and her power bill dropped. What would we save?"

6 "We had water in the bedroom last storm. I'm not doing that again this season."

ANSWERS

Here's the button

1 Across the street the Garcias just got a metal roof. The wife says, "Is that the one you'd put on ours? Theirs looks brand new."

→ Greed: they want what the neighbors have.

3 He sits with his arms crossed. "Three roofers already came out. All they did was push. Just show me what you've got."

→ Indifference: back off, be comfortable walking away.

5 "My sister-in-law got solar and a new roof, and her power bill dropped. What would we save?"

→ Greed: what others got, and what's in it for them.

2 "Our insurance company sent a letter. The roof has to be done before the renewal on November 15th."

→ Sense of Urgency: a date is driving them.

4 "If we wait until after the holidays, will you still honor this price?"

→ Fear of Loss: they're afraid the deal goes away.

6 "We had water in the bedroom last storm. I'm not doing that again this season."

→ Could be Urgency or Fear of Loss. ASK to be sure: "Is there a date you're working against, or is it the damage you're worried about?"

PUT IT TO WORK

Guessed wrong? Ask again.

- You hit a button and they go flat → it's not theirs. Move to the next one.
- Two could fit → ask a question that separates them. Don't assume.
- Keep hitting all four in the presentation. Theirs is the one you lean on at the close.
- Practice tonight: Sales Training Customer, pick an impulse. On the easy levels they say it plainly; on the hard ones you have to dig for it.

Energy Savings with Radiant Barrier Foil

Consumers are less concerned about how energy barriers work than they are about their effect on utility bills. This is much less than the 95% reduction in attic radiant heat flow because other forms of heat flow contribute to the total cooling (or heating) load. Data can expect to vary with region. The following data provided by The Tennessee Valley Authority, Chattanooga, Tennessee on Performance Testing of Radiant Barriers demonstrates the savings possible for a typical home:

- All the Radiant Barrier configurations yielded sizable percent savings and statistically significant reductions in summer attic heat transfer compared to the non-RB case. Also, as the ambient temperature increases, the savings also increase.
- The Radiant Barrier under the rafters (RBR) was the best summer performer. It consistently showed heat flux reductions compared to the non-RB case of nearly 40% for almost all ambient temperatures and even showed savings during mild temperature and night summer conditions.

More Estimates

1. So you are serious about buying a roof then. You just want to make sure you get the best company with the best price
2. So you did like me right? You also liked the company and the product?
3. If I could call my boss right now and get him to do the roof for (half the price) could I earn your business today?
4. Ok so then you can make a decision today? You don't really need more estimates, what you really want is just the best deal.
5. Get them to give you a price and immediately state "ok not to exceed (add $1000 to what they said)? Confirm BEFORE you call "IF I CAN DO THIS YOU WILL DO THAT"
